DESCRIPTION OF MATERIALS

ELECTRONIC COPY OF THE PAPER COPY OF THE DIS-IV

An electronic copy of the instrument is included on the C DIS-IV disk. If you need a hard copy of the instrument, you may simply print a copy.

DATABASE

The database for the C DIS-IV is automatically installed on your computer when you install a copy of the program. The database is in Access 97 format and will contain all the data gathered for a particular project.

SCORING PROGRAM AND ALGORITHMS

DSM-IV algorithms are provided for diagnoses and their subtypes for both the lifetime and the last 12 months. For each diagnosis it also evaluates and reports on each DSM-IV criterion, counts positive symptoms, and reports on onset and offset of each disorder, its course, how impairing it is, treatment sought and received in the last year, and previous treatment. Algorithms are written in SAS software programming language for use on an IBM or compatible personal computer or adaptation to any operating system using SAS software. The Screener does not use these algorithms, so does not need SAS.

QUESTION BY QUESTION SPECIFICATIONS

The question by question specifications are included in a file named "specs" for each section, or module, of the C DIS-IV, and they provide the intent of each question used in the DIS-IV, as well as specific information needed to correctly answer a question.

MANUAL/INSTRUCTIONS

The ReadMe file is included on the C DIS-IV disk and provides detailed directions for the C DIS-IV. It describes everything from initial installation, data merging, installing updates, to scoring the data.

CODEBOOK OF VARIABLES

The codebook provides a list of each variable included in the C DIS-IV and the corresponding question.

MOCK INTERVIEWS AND HOMEWORK

The mocks and homework are materials for teaching interviewers to use the C DIS-IV INTERVIEW and are updated each year. The MOCKS are question-and-answer scripts, showing the correct way to follow-up on and score commonly encountered responses to DIS questions. The trainer plays the role of "Respondent," following the script, and refers to it to check whether the interviewer has correctly coped with the "Respondent's" replies. HOMEWORK (with answers) is provided to verify that the interviewer-in-training understood the instructions. These are included with the Investigator's License when the training is purchased.
